In married life is generally made on an equal footing of health in man and wife. of health in man and wife. But how soon, in many cases, the wife loses the start and fades in face and fails in flesh, while her husband grows even more rugged and robust.

There is one chief cause for this wifely failure and that is, the failure of the womanly health. When there is irregularity or an strong and sick women well.

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Rilsabeth J. Pisher, of Diana, W. Va. "You advised the to use Dr. Pierce's Pavorite Prescription and Golden Meckei Diacovery, which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakurgs and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad prin mearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. Was so weak I could hardly walk across my room. Could not sit up only just a little while at a time. My hushand got me some of Dr. Pierce's mudicine and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I wan able to help do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my housework. It is the best medicine I ever used."

FIGHT WITH INSANE MAN .- James K. Fitzgibbon, a patient at St. Elizabeth's Asylum, D. C., who gained considerable notoriety recently through suc-cessful escapes from that institution, and who was captured last Friday in North Adams, Mass., was taken to Washington and lodged in the asylum. His return was far from voluntary, and it required the united strength of four men to get him from the railroad train to a carriage at the Pennsylvaria station. Fitzgib bon's escapes were due to over-confi-dence on the part of his attendants, who regarded him as harmless and who constantly allowed him a limited freedom, of which he was not slow to take advantage. In order to obviate the possibility of another escape, when Fitzgibbon arrived at Washington yesterday morning he was heavily handcuffed between two guards. When the train pulled into the station Fitzgibbon refused to leave the agent. to leave the coach. Finally the two guards summonel aid from the employees of the railroad. Two brawny negroes responded, and the four men succeeded in landing the handcuffed patient on the station platform. There the real trouble began. From the point where the party landed to the station gate was about a hundred yards, and Fitzgibbon refused to either move or be moved. There was a fierce battle, the insane man delivering telling blows with his manacled hands. He finally was lodged on top of one of the baggage trucks, where he was held by the four men, while a fifth pulled the truck and incorrigible load down to the gate. The patient had by this time exhausted all his strength and determination to resist and meetly entered a consistence of the contract of and meetly entered a carriage and was conveyed to the asylum. Fritzgibbon is physically perfect and weighs 190 pounds. The officer who accompanied him were covered with bumps and bruises, which they declared were due to violent con-tact with the fists and heels of the patient. Fitzgibbon, it will be remem-bered, was captured in Alexandria a few months ago and returned to St. Eliza-besth's

WRONG WIFE'S FUNERAL,-"My God, she was my wife!" exclaimed Peter Matthews, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., at the funeral of a woman suppose I to have been Mrs. Martin C. Brennan, at the home of the Brennans Saturday afternoon. It was a most dramatic ie mystery. The wo men's body had been found floating in the river on Wednesday. It had been identified by many neighbors as that of Mrs. Brennan, who led been n'ssing for three weeks. Although Mr. Brennan had failed to recognize the body as that of his wife, others of his femily were so ossidve that it was that Erennan firelly permitted the funeral to be held at his nouse. All the relatives were in mourning, and upward of 1000 curious persons ssembled in and about the Brennan home, where the obsequies were thus in-terrupted. Peter Matthews drove up in haste just as the services at the house were ended, and the wealth of floral emblems were being removed. "Let me see the corpse before it is taken away,' he said; and then he recognized it, with the exclamation quoted above, and the remains over to his hearse bore the house, from which handsome Mrs. Matthews had disappeared on Wednesday, The funeral was held over again; the Brennans cast aside their habilimeats of mourning and rejoiced, and Mar or C. Brennan simply said: "I told you so!" Mathews is under arrest. He is unable to account for his movements on the day his wife disappeared.
